To Whom It May Concern:

I have known Adrian Aviles over 16 years. As his uncle, I have attended many of his baseball showcases and games. I have seen his work ethic and determination playing baseball, which are some of his characteristics that identify Adrian.

Not only is Adrian's work ethic and determination displayed on the baseball field, but these traits are carried on into his education. Based on my communication and interaction with Adrian, he is known to be an outstanding student-athlete who has an approximate 3.96 GPA. His favorite courses are history and mathematics.

I have watched Adrian grow up, and I have seen him have great communication skills with his teammates. He is an individual who has plenty of confidence in himself, which is demonstrated in school and in baseball. He exemplifies the traits of a leader, and being a team player based off his mature actions with his teammates. He strives to better himself by practicing at home, working out and studying baseball games.

Besides Adrian being an outstanding student-athlete, I am assured he would be a beneficial asset to any student-athlete program. Feel free to contact me if you would like to receive any further information regarding Adrian.

Sincerely,
